Mel Moser

I am glad to be back on stage once again this summer with friends and fellow actors from last year and also actors new to the Butte stage this year. I am always in awe of these young actors' talents and excited about the new things they teach me.

A yoo-hoo out to my good friends Mickey Burdick and Chris Armbrister whose patience and understanding of my short-comings always amaze me.

And finally, I would like to dedicate this summer's performance to my good friend Stephen Mackin, who daily shows me how to "enjoy the dance".
